

Combined strength: ICC Solutions partners with Iliad Solutions to drive global EMV L3 innovation

ICC Solutions has pooled its acclaimed card scheme capabilities with testing and certification specialist Iliad Solutions to offer a compelling EMV Level 3 service for global businesses looking to deliver modern payment experiences.

Organisations that stand to benefit include global acquirers, bricks-and-mortar retailers, online merchants, payment processors, banks, test laboratories, software vendors and resellers, in addition to terminal vendors.

The partnership builds on ICC and Iliad's collaboration in the US, where they support one of the world's largest merchant acquirers.

Payment perfection: Iliad's testing capabilities just keep growing

Iliad Solutions' technology is trusted by major financial brands the world over - thanks to its ability to test complex payment scenarios in any region.

Since founding 20 years ago, Iliad has developed a powerful reputation as a faster payments expert and is currently at the forefront of global implementation of instant transactions and the ISO20022 message standard.

This work includes FedNow Service Instant Payments and TCH RTP in the US, and SEPA SCT Inst in Europe.

The t3 testing and certification platform serves up test data in real time and allows users to run myriad extreme scenarios, for example 15,000 t/ps, which exceed any volume surge a financial institution is likely to experience.

With Iliad Solutions, banks, fintechs and other payments businesses can apply sophisticated automation controls to projects at every level, empowering innovators to launch new financial products at speed and with confidence.

Cards on the table: what ICC brings to the partnership

For nearly 30 years, ICC Solutions has been at the forefront of testing innovation for EMV Level 2 and Level 3, supporting both contact and contactless terminals.

With a broad range of test cards, in addition to testing and certification services, its tools qualify for Mastercard, Visa, American Express and Discover - covering the entire testing path from initial testing to certification, quality assurance and regression.
